* Pseudobulbar Affect (PBA) occurs secondary to a variety of otherwise unrelated neurologic conditions, and is characterized by involuntary, sudden, and frequent episodes of laughing and/or crying.

In accordance with the US PhRMA Code on Interactions with Healthcare Professionals, attendance at this program is limited to only Healthcare Professionals (Physicians, Nurse Practitioners, Physician Assistants, RNs, Clinical Pharmacists, Social Workers). Accordingly, attendance by guests or spouses is not permitted.

This is a promotional program and no CME credits are offered. This program may include the provision of a modest meal. The sponsors do not offer such a meal to healthcare professionals (HCPs) whose institutions prohibit such hospitality, nor do the sponsors offer a meal where US federal or state laws (e.g., Vermont and Minnesota) limit an HCP's ability to accept such a meal. If you are licensed to practice in a state where meals are either prohibited and/or restricted and you accept a meal, you understand that you will be required to reimburse the sponsors for the cost of this meal. Accordingly, please consult your legal or ethics advisor regarding any applicable limitation before attending this program.

Please note that the sponsors are required to report the value of a provided meal pursuant to applicable US federal and/or state laws.

This activity will be held in conjunction with the ACRM Annual Conference.

It is not considered part of the official scientific program of ACRM and is not for CME credit.
